COMPASS, clothes valet
Design: GamFratesi
Casamania, 2013

Compass is a clothes valet made of solid wood, created thanks to the transformation of technical-functional design details into graphic elements.

In this piece, an extraordinarily iconic aesthetic is fashioned: the striking elements of the of the object – the compass in this particular case – lend the product a simple and essential form.

Compass is available in three different finishes: natural oak, white and black, with metallic circular features and a leather strap.

Materials and finishes

Natural oak, with natural leather strap and circular feature in red metal.

White stained natural oak, with black leather strap and circular feature in black metal.

Black stained natural oak, with black leather strap and circular feature in black metal.
