

BLANKET

Blankets are something we have got used to laying carefully over the sofa's armrest, but with this piece the blanket gets to spread out over the entire surface of the furniture. This playful role reversal gives the furniture an entirely unique identity, an identity which is further strengthened by the edge of the blanket having welt piping made of the same fabric as the sofa or from leather. Blanket is a move away from rigid formality towards something that is welcoming and comfortable. For the colour of the main body, you can choose between black-stained, white-stained or clear-stained oak.
