

meet chair & table

The culture of communication is taking on new values.

Why is it that for 135 years Sedus has been steadily raising the bar for office chairs and furniture? Because there is nothing more exciting than sitting down around a table and changing the world. Every project starts with people getting together and communicating ideas. We aim to provide the perfect conditions for these very special occasions. With Sedus meet chair and meet table, we have developed innovative products with outstanding ergonomics, elegance and quality, making them highly conducive to conversation.

Meeting points become places to be.

The best ideas are rarely conceived in silence. A place vibrant with life tends to be a better source of inspiration. Like the cafe, the canteen, the break room or the conference room. Sedus meet chair and meet table are designed to make the convergence of people a pleasant and comfortable experience. Modern yet classic, easy to stack and casually comfortable. Matching round or square tables make the meeting truly a pleasure.

In a class of its own – regardless of how big the seminar is.

Attendance numbers vary as much as the type of conference and seminar. So it's well to be prepared. Sedus meet tables can be stacked to save space. Depending on their features, the comfortable meet chairs can either be rolled up in an instant or simply stored – up to eight high.

The design, too, is an inspiration to others: From brightly coloured to classically understated, anything is possible. The individual concepts are infinite. We believe that when one is sitting in an innovative chair, one will absorb new things better.

Our aim is quality that lasts.

Furnishers of heavily used rooms such as libraries will know that time will tell what exactly a product is capable of. Thanks to our stringent quality standards and strict internal guidelines, Sedus meet chair and meet table are extremely durable even when in constant use. This is very much in line with our philosophy because Sedus always sets a good example when it comes to ecology. We use products that conserve nature and resources, like wood from sustainable forests and continually improved energy-saving processing methods.

Practical in any situation: Sedus meet chair is available as a swivel chair or a four-leg model, which can be stacked up to eight high. The tables are available as a stackable bistro table or a square or round bistro table standing on a base. The modern folding standing table completes the meet table range.
